Also, this is the first World Cup where women shooters hit 60 shots in the qualifications. Women shooters used to shoot 40 shots, before the ISSF changed the rules from January 1, 2018 to bring gender equality in the sport.

Haryana will enact law to punish those abandoning cows:

The Haryana government will soon enact a stringent law to punish those found abandoning their milch cows, chief minister Manohar Lal Khattar said.

The chief minister appealed to the people not to abandon their cattle and keep them in their houses, saying it was not easy for the government alone to protect them.

The state government has already enacted the "Gauvansh Sanrakshan and Gausamvardhan" Act for the protection of cows. "The government has tagged cattle in the gaushalas as it would help in knowing their location. Tagging of cattle kept in the houses would also be carried out so that these are not abandoned in any situation."

The state govt has taken a number of steps for the protection of cows. The Khattar government imposed a ban on beef in 2015, followed by a ban on cow slaughter in the state.

Earlier in March 2015, for "protection and upkeep" of cows, Haryana enacted a law which clamps a complete ban on cow slaughter in the state and provides for a rigorous imprisonment ranging from three to 10 years for killing the animal.

The court told the states to speed up the process of setting up monitoring stations, asking them to ensure the entire network is strengthened ahead of next winter.

NCR's air quality monitoring network is all set to be strengthened further with 13 new stations coming up in Haryana, while UP will get 10 more. Currently, Haryana has just three monitoring stations — Gurgaon, Faridabad and Rohtak. UP meanwhile has just two functioning stations currently — Noida and Ghaziabad, both of which have been showing high readings and were regularly in the "severe" category of CPCB's index during this winter.

Haryana cabinet approves new textile policy:

With an aim to make Haryana a hub of textile manufacturing, the state government approved ‘Textile Policy 2018’ to incentivize setting up of new units, and ensure growth and modernization of the existing textile industry in the state.

Industries Minister Vipul Goyal announced this after a meeting of the state cabinet under the chairmanship of chief minister Manohar Lal Khattar. “The policy is packed with fiscal incentives and contains provisions for infrastructure augmentation, setting up of textile parks, promotion of khadi industry and facilities for skill training. It aims at generating 50,000 new jobs by attracting investment in the textile sector to the tune of Rs 5,000 crore.”

The policy has been formulated with an eye on the cotton belt of Haryana. The state is one of the leading cotton producers in the country with Sirsa, Fatehabad, Bhiwani, Hisar, and Jind being the main cotton producing districts.

The policy proposes capital investment subsidy of 10%, subject to maximum of Rs 20 lakh, for the eligible capital investment for individual textile units set up in textile parks in ‘A’ & ‘B’ category blocks. For bringing in women entrepreneurship in Haryana, the policy proposes 15% capital subsidy subject to maximum of Rs 25 lakh. It aims to boost textile exports by compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 20% during the policy period.

NITI Aayog report on Haryana’s health indices had ‘flawed’ data: Khattar

Haryana chief minister Manohar Lal Khattar conveyed his concern to NITI Aayog vice-chairman Rajiv Kumar for the commission having relied on outdated sampling data in its recent report titled ‘Healthy States, Progressive India’. The report makes it appear that the state’s performance in health sector was declining.

In a note that the CM handed over to Kumar, it has been clarified that neonatal mortality rate (NMR) has actually shown a two point decline from 24 in 2015, to 22 in 2016, whereas the report cites the previous increase from 23 in 2014, to 24 in 2015. Similarly, the under-five mortality rate (UFMR) has declined from 42 in 2015, to 37 in 2016, whereas the report cites the previous increase from 40 in 2014 to 42 in 2015.

The full immunization coverage which the report shows increased from 82.54% in 2014 to 83.47% in 2015 and it has further improved to 89.13% in 2016.

According to the report, sex ratio at birth (SRB) as per the sample registration system (SRS) has declined from 866 per 1,000 to 831 from base year 2012-14 to reference year 2013-15. This is based on SRS in which 251 sampling units in rural and urban areas covering only 2,35,000 population of the state and providing information for the state only not district-wise, it was pointed out to Kumar.

Haryana's green cover worse than Punjab: the State of the Forest Report (FSI) 2017:

Haryana has pipped Punjab in taking the dubious distinction of the lowest forest cover in the country with only 3.59% green cover, according to the State of the Forest Report (FSI) 2017.

According to the FSI report, Haryana overtook Punjab, which has 3.65% forest cover. Though both states' ratios are abysmally low when compared to the national target of 33%, experts believe Haryana might fare worse in future FSI reports as it is yet to take protective measures for both the Aravalis and Shivaliks under its jurisdiction.

Haryana, on the other hand, has failed to re-notify 20,851 acres out of 25,037 acres forest cover, which expired in the last 10 years. This has left the Aravalis in Haryana vulnerable to land use change for real estate and other projects.

Punjab, which was earlier the list topper, now has forest cover over 3.65% of its geographical area, compared to Haryana's 3.59%. Between 2015 and 2017, Punjab managed to increase its the forest cover by 0.13%, while Haryana only managed to clock 0.02%.

ONLY MARGINAL RISE IN FOREST AREAS

Open forest: Areas with tree cover but without biodiversity (scrubs not included in total forest) (*Area in sqkm)

BEST 5		WORST 5
State / UT	Forest cover as % of geographic area	State / UT	Forest cover as % of geographic area
Lakshadweep	90.33%	Haryana	3.59%
Mizoram	86.27%	Punjab	3.65%
Andaman & Nicobar Islands	81.73%	Rajasthan	4.84%
Arunachal Pradesh	79.96%	Uttar Pradesh	6.09%
Manipur	77.69%	Gujarat	7.52%

Moreover, Haryana has only 1,588 sq km of forest, the lowest among all Indian states. Some union territories that have lesser forest area than Haryana still maintain better percentage of their geographical area under forest cover. Compared to Punjab, there is more very dense forest (canopy density of 70% and above) and open forest (canopy density between 10-40%) in Haryana, while its moderately dense forest (canopy density between 40-70%) is 40% lower than that of Punjab.
