ans. A DEVASTATING FIRE

By Satish

Chandigarh: 20 April, 20:XX. At 6.30 p.m. on a windy evening a huge cloud of smoke was seen rising from a shop in the left corner of the Central Market. Actually, that part of the central market in Bengaluru has number of shops and godowns of plastic goods. The fire brigade was given an urgent call. Soon a devastating fire engulfed the whole area. Many people were pouring buckets of water on the flames and struggling hard to put out the fire.A strong wind only worsened the situation.

Suddenly, everyone could hear shouts coming out from a shop. There was a lady stuck up in the fire. Then a man showed courage. He ran inside the shop and helped the lady come out of the engulfmg fire. Everyone patted his shoulders. He had saved a precious life. Soon the fire brigade reached. It took charge of the situation and did a wonderful job. The fire was put out in two hours. There was no loss of life but the loss of property is still to be assessed.

2. Write a report on the widespread damage to public property and loss of human lives during a communal riot in your area.

I lived in a lane near the Hall Gate in the walled city. Generally, people are friendly and cooperative to one another. But sometimes just a rumour can cause havoc and may lead to a communal riot. Last Sunday an ordinary incident provided such an excuse. A known bad character of the area Suresh passed some indecent remarks on a young woman of another community. This led to a violent protest from the members of the other community. Some sensible and responsible members of both the communities condemned the incident. But the scene was soon dominated by the fungoers. The area became a battle ground between the members of the two communities. There was a free use of bricks, bottles, stones and fire arms from both the side. About 80shops were put to flames. Two people were killed in the stabbing and firing incident. Only the flag march of the army could put down the riot and instill safety and security into the minds of the people. The situation still remains tense but is under control.

3. 'Traffic Week' is being observed in your city. Within the first two days the police has booked over three hundred violations. Under-age drivers are the main culprits of lane breaking, jumping red lights and speed violations. As Satish/Parul write a report in 150-200 words for publication in a newspaper.

TRAFFIC WEEK

By Satish. Staff Correspondent

New Delhi :8 May, 20:XX

The 'Traffic Week' currently being observed by the Delhi Police promises to be effective in controlling traffic problems of the city. In the first two days of the week-long campaign, over three hundred violations have been booked for various offences. Maximum offences were of lane breaking. These violations were detected using special devices with the electronic eye fitted strategically. Jumping red-light and breaking speed limits are next in frequency. These violations are reported to cause accidents with pedestrians and cyclists. High on the list of offences is rash driving by under-age drivers, some of whom sit behind the steering wheels without a driving licence. It will be better if the 'Traffic Week' is preceded by an 'Awareness Week'.

4. You are Kangana/Ram, a special correspondent of a leading newspaper. You were sent to cover the India International Trade Fair (IITF) held at Pragati Maidan, New Delhi. Write a report in 150-200 words.

Ans. AUTOMOBILE INDUSTRY DOMINATES INTERNATIONAL TRADE FAIR

By Kangana. Special Correspondent The Hindustran Times

New Delhi, 15th November, 20:XX

The india international trade fair (IITF) takes place every year from 14th to 27th November. This year, the fair was inaugurated by the Prime Minister. The theme of the fair this time was automobile industry.

Well-known Indian companies like Maruti Suzuki, Tata, Eicher, Mahindra, Hero, Bajaj, Kinetic and others had large stalls managed by knowledgeable staff, who impressed all the visitors.

Apart from Indian automobile companies, many automobile companies from abroad participated in this fair. Automobile giants such as Ford, BMW, Mercedes, Audi, etc. launched their luxury cars for the Indian market. Other than automobiles, there were stalls displaying the artifacts, electronics, textiles, etc. from the participating countries. Pavilions of different states could be seen. The exhibition showcased India's progress in numerous fields. All the stalls drew large crowds and their exhibits were sold in quick time.

Such fairs help instrengthening business and cultural ties with other countries and, thus, should be promoted.

SEMINAR ON ADULT EDUCATION

By Sujit. Special Correspondent, Dainik Bhaskar

New Delhi, 20th March, 20:XX

A seminar on Adult Education was held from 10p.m. to 4 p.m. on 17th March, 20:XX at International Public School. The seminar, organised by the CBSE was attended by 150 delegates from 15 different schools. Most of the attendees were teachers from government schools and those schools which conduct classes for working people in the evenings. These teachers have faced many practical difficulties in spreading adult education.

The purpose of the seminar was to chalk out plans for spreading adult literacy in North district of Delhi. The seminar was presided over by a well-known educationist Dr VI< Rao from the Directorate of Education. In his address, he referred to the extent of ignorance and illiteracy that prevails in the capital and how damaging it can be for those adults who are not educated, especially in the slums. Principals and teachers representing various schools gave suggestions regarding stepsthat could be taken to eradicate illiteracy.

The seminar was highly informative and laid out a road map for future action in this important mission.
